The Djinn Waits a Hundred Years Shubnum Khan

Akbar Manzil was once a grand estate off the coast of South Africa. Nearly a century later, it stands in ruins: an isolated boardinghouse for eclectic misfits. Except for Sana. Unlike the others, she finds herself irresistibly drawn to the history of the mansion.

River East, River West Aube Rey Lescure

In 1985 China, unassuming clerk Lu Fang finds his world opening up when he meets a woman from the United States. In 2007 Shanghai, teenaged Alva, raised by her ex-pat mother finds her world opening up when she enters the American School in Shanghai.

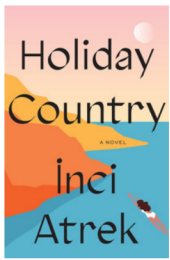

The Book of Fire Christy Lefteri

In present-day Greece, deep in an ancient forest, lives a family: Irini, a musician, who teaches children to read and play music; her husband, Tasso, who paints pictures of the forest, his greatest muse; and Chara, their young daughter, whose name means joy.

True North Andrew J. Graff

As the summer of 1993 begins, Sam and Swami Brecht roll into town with a twenty-six-foot Winnebago camper van, their three young kids, and the deed to Woodchuck Rafting Company. This could be the fresh start their marriage needs, but Woodchuck has seen better days.

Holiday Country

Inci Atrek

Ada adores spending every summer in a Turkish seaside town with her mother and grandmother at the family villa. When a mysterious man from her mother's past, shows up in their town, Ada can't help but imagine a different future.

Mrs. Quinn's Rise to Fame

Olivia Ford

Nothing could be more out of character, but after fifty-nine years of marriage, Jenny decides she wants a little something for herself. So she secretly applies to be a contestant on the prime-time TV show Britain Bakes.

Behind You Is the Sea

Susan Muaddi Darraj

Three Palestinian immigrant families have received very different welcomes in America. The wealthy Ammars employ Maysoon, a member of the financially struggling Baladi family, as the Salameh family faces dishonor.

Invisible Woman

Katia Lief

Joni Ackerman's decision to raise children, 25 years ago, came with a steep cost. But she and her husband Paul had always wanted a family. When a scandal rocks the film industry, it forces Joni to revisit a secret from long ago.

First Lie Wins

Ashley Elston

Evie Porter has everything a nice, Southern girl could want: a perfect, doting boyfriend, a house with a white picket fence and a garden, a fancy group of friends. The only catch: Evie Porter doesn't exist.

One of the Good Guys

Araminta Hall

When St. Sebastian's School becomes the target of arson, the Sisters of the Sublime Blood and their surrounding community are thrust into chaos. Patience is a virtue, but punk rocker turned nun Sister Holiday isn't satisfied to just wait around.

The Queen of Sugar Hill

ReShonda Tate

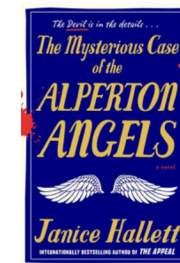

When Hattie McDaniel takes the stage to claim her Oscar, it's supposed to be the highlight of her career. But instead, it marks the beginning of the Oscar curse. Her portrayal of Mammy in Gone With the Wind has certainly been life-changing, but in the worst way.

Anna

Matthew Blake

Anna was a budding writer with a bright future. Then, one night, she stabbed two people to death with no apparent motive—and hasn't woken up since. Dubbed "Sleeping Beauty," Anna's rare condition attracts psychologist Dr. Benedict Prince.

The Mysterious Case of the Alpertons

Janice Hallett

Everyone knows the story of the Alpertons: the cult who brainwashed a teenage girl into believing her baby was the anti-Christ. Now, true crime author Amanda Bailey is looking to revive her career by writing a book on the case.

The Silence in Her Eyes

Armando Lucas Correa

Leah was diagnosed with akinetopsia, or motion blindness, when she was a child. But with her heightened smell and hearing, she is acutely observant. When she hears someone in her apartment she wakes up wondering if it was all just a dream.
