FICTION

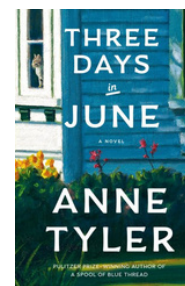

The Queens of Crime Marie Benedict

In 1930s London, five of the greatest women crime writers band together to form a secret society. Sick of being treated as secondary to their male counterparts, the Queens of Crime set out to solve an actual murder with connections to the British establishment.

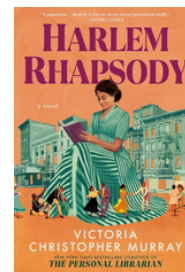

Black Woods Blue Sky Eowyn Ivey

Birdie is a single mom waiting tables at a roadside lodge to provide for her daughter Emaleen. After Arthur, the town recluse, finds the child lost in the woods, the two move to Arthur's isolated cabin. At first it's idyllic, but Arthur is harboring a dark secret.

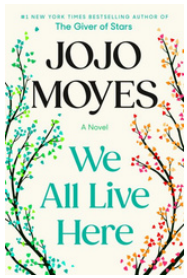

Three Days in June Anne Tyler

Gail is having a bad day. Her daughter, Debbie is getting married, her ex-husband has just arrived unannounced and unprepared, and she just lost her job. But the true crisis comes when Debbie shares a secret that she has just learned about her husband to be.

Harlem Rhapsody Victoria Christopher Murray

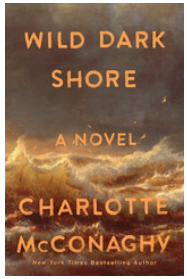

Jessie Redmon Fauset is the new literary editor of The Crisis. W.E.B. Du Bois, the founder and editor of The Crisis, has charged her with discovering young writers who will change the world... but her relationship with W.E.B. could jeopardize all that she's built.

We All Live Here

Jojo Moyes

Lila has a lot on her plate: a broken marriage, two wayward daughters, a house that is falling apart and a career in freefall. So, when her real dad (a man she has barely seen) suddenly appears on her doorstep, it feels like the final straw.

Wild Dark Shore

Charlotte McCConaghy

Dominic Salt and his three children are caretakers of Shearwater, a tiny island. During the worst storm the island has ever seen, a woman mysteriously washes ashore. As they nurse the woman back to strength, it begins to feel like she might just be what they need.

One Good Thing

Georgia Hunter

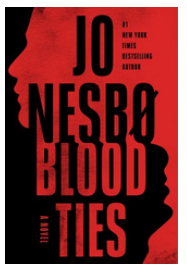

Lili and Esti have been best friends since meeting at university. There is a war being fought and in Italy, Mussolini's Racial Laws have deemed them descendants of an 'inferior' Jewish race, but life goes on-until Germany invades northern Italy.

Last Twilight in Paris

Pam Jenoff

Louise is still adjusting to her role as a housewife when she discovers a necklace in a box at a secondhand shop. The necklace leads to a once-glamorous department store that served as a Nazi prison, and a woman who was imprisoned there.

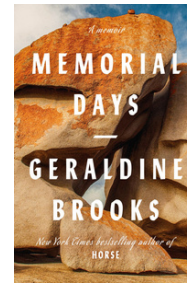

Blood Ties

Jo Nesbo

Carl and Roy Opgard are doing pretty well for themselves. The two manage multiple businesses in their small town of Os. When rumors of a new highway bypassing Os begin to arise, Carl and Roy know they must do something...even if it means getting their hands dirty.

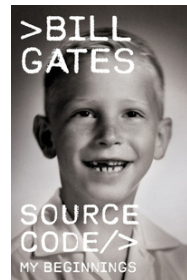

NONFICTION

Memorial Days

Geraldine Brooks

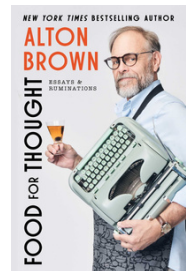

Many cultural and religious traditions expect those who are grieving to step away from the world. In contemporary life, we are more often met with red tape and to-do lists. This is exactly what happened to Geraldine Brooks when her partner of more than three decades, Tony Horwitz died.

Source Code

Bill Gates

Source Code is not about Microsoft or the Gates Foundation or the future of technology. It's the human, personal story of how Bill Gates became who he is today: his childhood, his early passions and pursuits.

Food for Thought

Alton Brown

Alton Brown has had a diverse and remarkable career. His work on the Food Network, including creating Good Eats and hosting Iron Chef America and Cutthroat Kitchen, has resonated with countless viewers and home cooks. Now, he shares exactly what's on his mind.

Fearless and Free

Josephine Baker

After stealing the spotlight as a teenaged Broadway performer during the height of the Harlem Renaissance, Josephine then took Paris by storm, dazzling audiences across the Roaring Twenties. In her famous banana skirt, she enraptured royalty and countless fans.
