

Coming in May

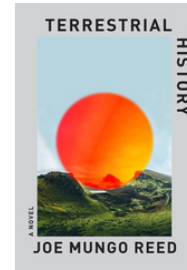

UNDER THE RADAR

April 2025

All That Life Can Afford Alice Austen

As a child, Eva devoured London through library books, a far cry from her life of co-pays and Craigslist and caring for her mother. When she arrives in the real London, that free, intoxicating life of plenty, feels just as inaccessible as it did from America.

Terrestrial History Joe Mungo Reed

Hannah is a fusion scientist working alone at a remote cottage when she sees a figure making his way from the sea. It is a visitor from the future, a young man from a human settlement on Mars, traveling backwards through time.

The Lilac People Milo Todd

An employee of the renowned Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld at the Institute of Sexual Science, Bertie works to improve queer rights in Germany and beyond, but everything changes when Hitler rises to power. The institute is raided, and queer people are rounded up.

The Bright Years Sarah Damoff

Ryan and Lillian are deeply in love, recently married, and now parents to a baby girl, Georgette. But Lillian has a son she hasn't told Ryan about, and Ryan has an alcohol addiction he hasn't told Lillian about, so Georgette comes of age watching their marriage rise and fall.

The Road to Tender Hearts

Annie Hartnett

Million-dollar lottery winner PJ would be a lucky man if it weren't for the tragedies of his life: the sudden death of his eldest daughter and the way his marriage fell apart. But PJ just realized his high school sweetheart, Michelle Cobb, is finally single again.

The Fantasies of Future Things

Doug Jones

Daily interactions between Jacob and Daniel are a powder keg of sexual tension and uncertainty. When Jacob meets Sherman, a social worker, he must decide if rejecting security is worth the risk of embracing the unknown.

The French Honeymoon

Anne-Sophie Jouhanneau

Taylor arrives at her honeymoon suite in the City of Love alone, sans suitcase, but with wads of stolen cash. When she catches a glimpse of newlyweds Cassie and Olivier enjoying their happily ever, she can't tear her eyes away.

Favorite Daughter

Morgan Dick

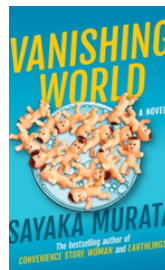

Mickey and Arlo are half sisters. But they've never spoken and never met. Arlo adored her father--but always lived in the shadow of his personality vices. Meanwhile, he father abandoned Mickey, and Mickey has hated him since.

The Correspondent

Virginia Evans

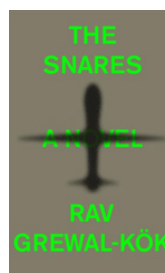

Sybil Van Antwerp has throughout her life used letters to make sense of the world and her place in it. Most mornings, around half past ten, Sybil sits down to write letters.

Vanishing World

Sayaka Murata

Amane realizes with horror that her parents "copulated" in order to bring her into the world, rather than using artificial insemination, which became the norm. She strives to get away from what she considers an indoctrination in this strange "system" by her mother.

The Snares

Rav Grewal-Kök

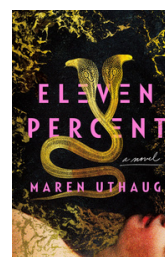

In the waning months of George W. Bush's presidency, Neel Chima, a former naval officer and federal prosecutor, is recruited to join a new federal intelligence agency--one with greater than usual powers and fewer than usual restrictions.

Friends Helping Friends

Zee Carlstrom

The narrator of has rejected the gender binary, has flamed out with a vengeance at their corporate gig, is most likely brain damaged from a major tussle with their now ex-boyfriend, and is on a bender to end all benders.

Eleven Percent

Maren Uthaug

What if women took over the world? It is the New Time, a time not so different from our own except that the men are gone. All but eleven percent of them, that is, the minimum required to avoid inbreeding. But they are safely under lock and key.

A/S/L

Jeanne Thornton

Lilith, Sash, and Abraxa are teenagers, scattered across the country but joined by the Internet and making a video game that will change everything. Eighteen years later, Saga of the Sorceress still exists only on the scattered drives of its creators.
